

A: Story

Clever elephants

One day an elephant walked into a hospital.

The elephant wasn't ill, and he didn't have anyone to visit.

He just wanted to know what a hospital was like.

He went straight into a ward full of old ladies.

As he went he waved his trunk from side to side just to be friendly.

One old lady had just eaten an orange.

The elephant loved oranges.

He walked up to the old lady's bedside table and took all the orange peels.

Unfortunately, he knocked over a vase of flowers with his trunk.

The old ladies screamed as the elephant went on down the ward.

At that moment a doctor arrived.

The doctor grabbed two oranges and the orange-loving elephant followed the doctor outside.

The elephant had escaped from a circus.
